

Dual Citizenship: Political and Social Integration in an Era of Global Mobility

Thursday, 19 December 2019; 09h00–19h00

Aula of the Campus, University of Vienna, Spitalgasse/Alser Straße, 1090 Vienna

Programme

09h00 – 11h00

I. Citizenship as a basic human right

Peter Spiro (Temple Law School, PA, USA): International law and dual citizenship

Rainer Bauböck (European University Institute, Florence and Commission for Migration and Integration Research, Vienna): Toleration of Dual Citizenship

A Global Trend and its Limits

Yossi Harpaz (Dept. of Sociology, Tel Aviv University / Harvard University):

Citizenship 2.0: Dual Nationality as a Global Asset

Yasemin Soysal (Dept. of Sociology, University of Essex): National, European and Global citizenship

11h00 – 11h30 Coffee break

11h30 – 13h00

II. The implementation of dual citizenship in different countries: case studies

Eva Ersbøll (Danish Institute for Human Rights, Copenhagen): The Danish Turn

towards Dual Citizenship

Günther Pallaver (Institute for Political Science, University of Innsbruck): Dual citizenship in Italy: Between nationalism and openness

Szabolcs Pogonyi (Nationalism Studies Program, Central European University, Vienna): Kin-citizenship in Central and Eastern Europe

Irmgard Helperstorfer (General Secretary, World Association of Expatriate Austrians, Vienna): What Austrians abroad think about dual citizenship

13h00 – 14h30 Lunch break

14h30 – 16h30

III. Citizenship and social integration

Max Haller (Institute of Sociology, University of Graz and Commission for Migration and Integration Research, Vienna): Citizenship and identity in the societal and political context

Floris Peters (Department of Political Science, Maastricht University): Does the renunciation requirement condition the probability of homeownership? Dual citizenship in the Dutch integration debate

Raimund Haindorfer (Institute of Sociology, University of Vienna) and Max Haller (Institute of Sociology, University of Graz and Commission for Migration and Integration Research, Vienna): Does citizenship promote integration? An Austrian case study

Hermann Atz (Apollis-Institute of Social Research and Opinion Polling, Bolzano/Bozen): Does dual citizenship endanger ethnic peace? How the South Tyrolean population views the additional granting of Austrian citizenship

16h30 – 17h00 Coffee break

17h00 – 19h00

IV. Die Situation in Österreich – Podiumsdiskussion (To be conducted in German)

Einführung in die Problematik, Gerd Valchars (Universität Wien)

DiskutantInnen:

- Heinrich Neisser (em. Prof. für Politikwissenschaft, Universität Innsbruck; ehemaliger Bundesminister und Nationalratspräsident)
- Magdalena Pöschl (Institut für Staats- und Verwaltungsrecht, Universität Wien und Mitglied der Österreichischen Akademie der Wissenschaften)
- Dietmar Hudsky (Abteilungsleiter, Aufenthalts- und Staatsbürgerschaftswesen, Bundesministerium für Inneres)
- Stefanie Krisper (Abgeordnete zum Nationalrat der NEOS)
- Joachim Blatter (Politikwissenschaftliches Seminar, Universität Luzern)
- Jürgen Em (Präsident, Auslandsösterreicher-Weltbund, Bonn)

Moderation: Sieglinde Rosenberger (Institut für Politikwissenschaft, Universität Wien und Kommission für Migrations- und Integrationsforschung, Wien)

This conference is a joint project of the Commission for Migration and Integration Research, Austrian Academy of Sciences, Vienna, the Department of Political Science, University of Vienna, and the Viennese Sociological Association.

Institut für Politikwissenschaft

Wiener Gesellschaft für Soziologie
Viennese Sociological Association WGS